

PHILADELPHIA JEWISH FILM FESTIVAL

27th Season

November 2007 – May 2008

French Weekend

Family Hero (Le Heros de la Famille)

Saturday, March 1, 8pm, $12

Sunday, March 2, 2pm, $10

Family Hero tells the story of an assimilated Jewish family with North African roots, who inherit the magical cabaret of their patriarch. As they lick their ancient wounds, they discover that they never really knew their parents, old lovers, children or friends. Along the way we are treated to the glamour and self-mocking star turns of some of the best French actors.

Guest Speaker: Danièle Thomas Easton

Bad Faith (Mauvaise Foi)

Sunday, March 2, 7pm, $10

Clara is Jewish and Ishmael Muslim, but above all, they are secular and egalitarian French--until Clara becomes pregnant and their secret love affair must be made public. Suddenly, they are faced with two families, two cultures, who share the French Republican values. This debut film by actor/director, Roschdy Zem (Live and Become) is a spunky sexy comedy.

Guest Speaker: Prof. Jean-Michel Rabaté

These programs are supported by Nancy and David Colman.
